2018 Crestwood High School Homecoming

Homecoming week at Crestwood High School started Saturday, September 22 with the homecoming dance. Homecoming is always a special time, the school is decorated in Comet colors, red and white, and students show their school pride and spirit. During the week there were Spirit Days, a power puff derby, which had to be postponed because of rain, and a pep rally. The week ended with the homecoming parade and the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen.

Because of construction on the Crestwood High School campus, the homecoming parade route was changed. This year the parade started at Larchmont Way, across from the Wright Township Fire Department and made its way down

Public hearing set for October 10

The Fairview Township zoning hearing board will hold a public hearing on Wednesday, October 10 at 6:30 p.m. on three zoning variances requested by Carmine Development Company of Pittston, owner of the 2.6-acre parcel located at South Mountain Boulevard and Kirby Avenue, near the Turkey Hill Store. The developer plans to build a 2,817 square foot building to be occupied by Fidelity Deposit and Discount Bank.

The developer is seeking a variance to allow parking spaces less than 10 feet from the building; allow more than one free-standing sign on the parcel; and reduce the width of a planting strip from the required 15 feet to 13 feet wide.

Mullery announces $807,771 for Luzerne County projects

State Rep. Gerald Mullery, D-Newport Township, said $807,771 in grants were awarded for several projects in the portion of Luzerne County that he represents.

"These dollars help us make needed improvements in our parks, trails, water supplies and sanitary systems," Mullery said.

The Commonwealth Financing Authority approved the grants, through the Greenways, Trails and Recreation program and the PA Small Water and Sewer Program.

"It's been a pleasure working with Representative Mullery," said Rice Township Supervisor Robert Pipech after learning his township was one of four to receive a grant award. "He has helped Rice Township tremendously."

Charlotte Carter, a board member of the White Haven Area Community Library, echoed Pipech's excitement over the grant news, as White Haven Borough in conjunction with the White Haven Community Library is working on a downtown recreational project, and was awarded $125,000 from the CFA.

"I would like to thank Representative Mullery for helping to secure this funding," Carter said. "This project will provide a wonderful recreational addition to downtown White Haven and be an added asset to all the bikers and hikers who access the D&L trail, which is located nearby."

The four grants and their associated projects include:

Plymouth Township: $325,000 for sanitary swear improvements on a segment of Driscoll and Bradley Streets as well as a section of Jersey Road.

Foster Township: $325,000 to extend a sewer line along Route 940 (Foster Avenue), serving eight existing property owners and six vacant properties over a 12-acre radius.

White Haven: $125,600 to develop a new park that will provide safe pedestrian access between the community, library and the Delaware and Lehigh Trail. The project will also add native plantings, rain gardens, a stormwater drainage system, installation of ADA compliant walkways from Towanda Street to the library, walkway lighting and protective fencing along the active rail line.

Rice Township: $32,171 to assist with park construction.

The CFA is an independent state agency that evaluates and administers funding for proj-

Tips on preventing unsafe encounters with bears offered

Just about every day Mountain Top focused social media pages feature photos or videos of black bears foraging for food in back yards or include comments about the ursine creatures knocking over trash containers in search of food.

While the bears are an annoyance for some folks and frighten others, the fact is that it is the time of year for them to prepare for hibernation and we've developed much of their natural habitat.

State Senator Lisa Baker (R-20), whose district includes much of Mountain Top, even addressed the issue in her recent newsletter to constituents.

"The Pennsylvania Game Commission is eager to prevent unsafe encounters with those omnivorous black bears on their daily 20-hour quest to consume as much as 20,000 calories before starting all over again the next day in anticipation of hibernating," Baker pointed out.

The senator related several tips from the game commission for preventing a confrontation with a black bear. The commission points out that black bears will eat human food, garbage, bird feed, pet foods, fruits from trees or gardens, and livestock feed. They also raid cornfields and beehives. Bears find food mainly by scent and are opportunistic feeders, with a largely vegetarian diet. Once bears find easily accessible food sources, whether on a farm or in a housing development, they will keep coming back as long as food is available. With every returning trip they slowly lose their fear of people, which can lead to bolder attempts at accessing food, and as time spent near people increases, so does the risk of being struck by a vehicle or becoming a more serious nuisance.

According to the game commission, the best way to get rid of these unwanted visitors is to remove or secure food sources. A persistent bear may damage property, increase the risk of human injury, or become an unwanted visitor in other parts of the neighborhood. And, all too often, fed bears become dead bears.

The game commission says the best way to keep bears from being attracted to your home is to keep them from finding food there in the first place. Some of its recommendations include:

Don't put out your trash until the morning of collection day. Be sure garbage cans are cleaned regularly, with hot water and chlorine bleach. Clean the outdoor grill after every use, and properly dispose of grill grease. Don't dump the grease out back. If you feed birds during summer (and if vou're living in bear country, you shouldn't be), you may want to bring all bird feeders, including hummingbird feeders, in at night. Keep the area around your gardens and fruit trees clean and avoid putting food scraps in compost piles. Store trash, bird seed and pet food inside a building, garage or secure shed, and keep the door closed.

If you have pets, bring their food pans inside at night. Bears generally steer clear of chained or penned dogs. Unleashed dogs that approach bears, however, may be injured or killed.

If you have a dog in bear country, don't let it roam far from the house, leash it whenever you hike in the woods, and keep it in the house or in a kennel at night. It's also a good practice in bear country to take a quick look outside before letting a dog out into the yard, especially at night.

Repeated problems with bears can be reported to the regional commission office at 3917 Memorial Highway, Dallas, PA 18612-0220. The telephone number is 570-675-1143.

BREAST CANCENESS

Breast Cancer Awareness Month (BCAM), also referred to in America as National Breast Cancer Awareness Month (NBCAM), is an annual international health campaign organized by major breast cancer charities every October to increase awareness of the disease and to raise funds for research into its cause, prevention, diagnosis, treatment and cure. The campaign also offers information and support to those affected by breast cancer.

Breast cancer awareness month is a yearly campaign that intends to educate people about the importance of early screening, test and more. This campaign starts on October 1 and ends on October 31 every year.

White House illuminated pink in honor of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month in 2017.

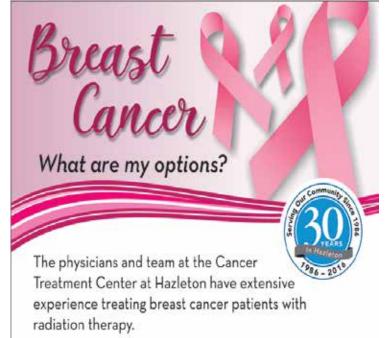

In 1993 Evelyn Lauder, Senior Corporate Vice President of the Estée Lauder Companies, founded The Breast Cancer Research Foundation and established the pink ribbon as its symbol, though this was not the first time the ribbon was used to symbolize breast cancer: a 68-year-old California woman named Charlotte Haley, whose sister, daughter, and granddaughter had breast cancer, had distributed peach-color ribbons to call attention to what she perceived as inadequate funding for research. In the fall of 1991, the Susan G. Komen Foundation had handed out pink ribbons to participants in its New York City race for breast cancer survivors.

A variety of events around the world are organized in October, including walks and runs, and the pink illumination of landmark buildings. In the United States, the National Football League promotes breast cancer awareness by incorporating pink on and off the field, and comic strip art-

In October 1983 the Race for the Cure was held for the first time in Dallas, Texas, where 800 people participated. According to the organizers, by 2002 the number of participants reached 1.3 million and the event was held in over 100 US cities. The event is also being organized in several other parts of the world.

There are various two-daylong walks to raise money for breast cancer research institutes. Avon sponsors a 39-mile (60-km) walk. A walk in Atlanta offers varying lengths of up to 30 miles. Canada's large "Weekend to End Breast Cancer" features a 60-km walk. St. Louis, MO offers a one-daylong breast cancer walk. This walk consists of three miles.

Susan G. Komen 3 Day, 60-mile fundraising walk, which is spread across 3 days, raises money for breast cancer research. This walk, which benefits Susan G. Komen, occurs in seven cities in the United States.

Male breast cancer, which is rare, is generally overlooked. In 2009 the male breast cancer advocacy groups Out of the Shadow of Pink, A Man's Pink, and the Brandon Greening Foundation for Breast Cancer in Men joined together to globally establish the third week of October as "Male Breast Cancer Awareness Week".

Starry Knights Learning Center, LLC opens in Mountain Top

By Claudia Strycharz Mountain Peaks Correspondent

Starry Knights Learning Center, LLC is a new child care and learning facility located in Wright Township on Alberdeen Road where the previous Knights of Columbus was located for many years; hence the use of Knights in the center's name.

The official opening for Starry Knights was August 10 of this year and the preschool opened August 27 the same day as Crestwood schools.

Starry Knights is owned by Melody Glazenski, who is educated in early childhood development. Melody previously worked for a local daycare for a year and a half, has worked for several years as a teacher assistant for Crestwood School District and is licensed with the State of Pennsylvania. The center is part of the Keystone Stars Program and opened as a star one facility. Melody has lived in Mountain Top for 19 years with her husband Joseph and son Joseph, Jr, 15.

The Center has six employees, including herself, who work in various areas such as the nursery, preschool, toddlers, two-year olds, as well as before and after school care. Most of the staff holds early childhood credentials or a degree in early childhood education. Staff continues training throughout the year in all aspects of early childhood. All staff members are trained in CPR and are certified.

Starry Knight's mission statement is to provide a warm, caring, supportive learning environment for children 6 weeks of age through 12 years old with flexible scheduling and affordable tuition. Their philosophy is to encourage each child to achieve their full potential through a combination of spontaneous play and intentional teaching. This will allow each child to succeed, grow, feel loved, and to be secure as a unique individual. Melody says, "My goal is to prepare preschoolers for kindergarten."

The curriculum at Starry Knights meets the requirements of the State of Pennsylvania Early Learning Standards. There are five programs offered at the learning center. The nursery program provides a nurturing homelike environment that encourages an infant's growth in trust and self-esteem. In the toddler's program children are introduced to social interaction, language development, enrichment of gross and fine motor skills as well as self help skills that are needed to encourage a toddler's growth in self-confidence. The two's program is a

Saint Jude preschool students turn computers inside out

Children and technology seem to go hand in hand these days. But what do our kids really know about the computers and games they are playing? Recently, Mrs. Correll's Pre-K 5 day class got an up close and personal look at the inside of a CPU. Students used magnifying glasses to explore the computer's components. They identified familiar shapes they observed such as circles, rectangles and squares and then drew their observations. Students were fascinated by what they saw!

Kreative Displays defeats King's to win mens ASA softball title

Kreative Displays, the area's premier holiday decorator, is now Mountain Top's men's ASA softball champions for the third time out of the last four years, marking half as many championships for as many years Kreative Displays softball has existed, duplicating its surprise 2015 season with an identical 20-10 record.

After a disappointing 2017 campaign which saw KD finishing 15-8, good for third in the regular season and forth in the playoffs, KD finished the year at 17-10. After reloading this year with some new talented playmakers to go along with the core team, KD battled throughout the 2018 season to retain second place in the standings, while blending in the new players who started meshing as a team, heating up as they approached the all important playoffs to determine this year's champion.

In rounds one and two of the 2018 playoffs, KD recorded 10 run rule victories over the Hazleton and Dotzel/Meyers/ Klien teams, knocking both down to the losers bracket. Next up would be undefeated 22-0 King's team, defending 2017 champions in the winners bracket finals. Not a great offensive outing for KD as they struggled at the plate while King's routed them 16-4 in a 10 run rule victory of their own, sending KD down to the losers bracket while King's assumed the "Kings Seat" and remained undefeated at 23-0 awaiting an eventual opponent in the championship.

After rolling to a 12-5 victory over Mt. Post 781 in the losers bracket finals, KD was ready for its third trip to the finals in the last four years. KD won back to back titles in 2015 and 2016, setting up a showdown between number 1 King's and number 2 KD to determine this years champion.

The two teams had never faced each other in the finals as both had played perennial contender and past three time champion Precision Tool in the last three championship contests. (Notable, this final would mark the first time since at least 2008 that Precision Tool didn't make it to the championship round having played in the last 10 championship contests).

On to the championship, undefeated King's would have to be beaten twice by KD in a double header, as King's was undefeated in the double elimination playoffs and only needed one victory over KD in order to mark back to back titles, to become the fifth team in a row to accomplish back to back championships since Precision Tool's three-peat in 2008, 2009 and 2010.

In the first game, KD roared out to a 14-0 lead heading into the bottom of the fifth inning which saw King's finally plating across two runs of their own, however not enough to avoid another 10 run rule victory by KD in the playoffs, their third. With flawless pitching from KD pitcher "The Wiz" along with errorless play in the field highlighted by some spectacular plays in the outfield, KD's defense absolutely shut down King's very potent offense holding them scoreless for the first four innings, while KD capitalized on several infield singles, showcasing the best team speed in the league, handing King's their first loss of the year, final score 14-2.

After a coin toss which was won by King's, who chose to remain the home team, the second game saw increased scoring from both sides. KD continued their playoff consistency of scoring most every inning (KD having failed to score in only four innings of their five playoff wins) which saw KD's sluggers stepping up to the plate with 3 home runs (their 8th, 9th and 10th of the playoffs) including an additional 8 extra base hits although, this time King's came out scoring and often, most every inning and KD was only able to record a "donut" once in the 7 innings of play as King's matched them run for run eventually tying the score at 12 in the bottom of the forth inning. After scoring 5 runs in the top of the fifth inning, KD was able to get that "donut" holding King's scoreless in the bottom of the inning and now finding themselves leading by a score of 17-12. KD was to add three more runs in the top of the sixth to extend their lead to 8, however King's continued to battle into the bottom of the sixth, scoring four runs of their own cutting KD's lead in half going into the final championship determining 7th inning.

KD knew they needed some insurance runs in their final at bat and their offense responded with five runs to run the score to 25-16 leading into King's final at bat with their chance to mark back to back championships. They were to fall short plating across two runs to close out the scoring for 2018. Kreative Displays captured its third championship in the last four.

The rehab staff worked with residents and rehab patients to get them to do the motions of the song In My Feeling by Drake so they would be ready for challenge day.

Following the KiKi dance challenge where staff, residents and rehab patients danced as best they could or waved a heart shaped paper on a stick that they made to the beat of the music, everyone had a dish of ice cream

The KiKi dance challenge is a new dance craze that has gone viral taking the internet by storm, sort of like photo

Fun soars, kites fly at annual Mountain Top kite festival

Flying a colorful kite is Prisha Desai, 7.

The annual Mountain Top kite festival was held on Saturday, September 29 from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at Christ United Methodist Church in Mountain Top. This fun family community event was co-hosted by Christ UMC and the Pocono Kite Symphony. It was the first year that the festival was held at Christ UMC. There were plenty of games, a mini zip line for the kiddos, parachute kite racing, a bounce house to jump in, free kites to decorate and kite flying lessons if needed. There was food available for purchase and kites were also available to purchase from the Pocono Kite Symphony. The weather was cool, mostly sunny with enough of a breeze to get the kites into the air. It was a great day for the many families that came out and participated in the fun event.

Alexa Mihalos, 6 is doing a fabulous job decorating a kite that she will fly when it is completed.

Parachute kite racing is a popular event at the festival this year and the kids are running as fast as they can towing those parachutes behind them.

Zipping down the mini zip line is Kroy Cariot, 5, from Mountain Top.

Getting his face painted by Joslynn Burman is Landon Sadowski, 5 from Mountain Top.

Mila Kucuk, 2 and her mom Kaitlyn have a great time playing ball and running around the field.

All Aboard! Historic steam engine #425 takes passengers to Jim Thorpe

The Rotary Club of Mountain Top once again hosted its very popular annual steam train excursion from Mountain Top to historic Jim Thorpe on Saturday, September 22. It was a beautiful day for a train ride that meandered throughout the Lehigh Gorge State Park, crossed the Lehigh River several times, passing through several small towns making its way to Jim Thorpe. Boarding time began at 8:30 a.m. with departure from the Penobscot station at 9:30 a.m.

The scenery along the way was magnificent with just a hint of color in the trees. Kayakers were seen making their way down the Lehigh River from the train as well as bicycle riders and hikers on scenic paths. The train was filled with over 400 riders this year who all converged on Jim Thorpe

This year steam engine #425 of the Northern & Reading Train Co. is running on its 91st year of service. Diesel engine # 2351 boasting 2500 hp assisted with braking for the steam engine down into Jim Thorpe, but it made its way up the mountain to Mountain Top unassisted.

The train arrived back at Penobscot Station at approximately 5:45 p.m. where everyone got on the shuttle busses taking them back to their vehicles.

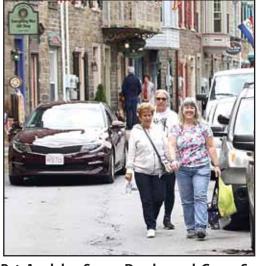

Passengers patiently wait for the steam train to depart beginning the beautiful scenic ride down the mountain into Jim Thorpe.

Passengers climb aboard car number 309 at Penobscot Station and prepare to depart for Jim Thorpe.

Ryan's Run becomes personal for Mountain Top man this year

When Jim Brogna starts across the Verrazano Bridge on Staten Island at the beginning of the TCS New York City Marathon on November 4, it will mark the third time the Mountain Top man has participated in the world's largest marathon.

But this year the 26.5-mile race will have an added meaning for him. This year, it is personal.

That's because this year the 48-year-old Brogna will be running in memory of Paul Harrington and Marion Yudiski Flannelly, two beloved Allied Services Integrated Health System colleagues who passed away over the last year. "Every other year, it's been for fun and to raise money. It's personal this year," he offered.

Brogna will participate in

the marathon as a member of WNEP-TV Ryan's Run team which has raised $2.6 million over the last eight years to help Allied Services provide muchneeded services to children and adults with disabilities and life-changing injuries. The team is led by WNEP-TV personality Ryan Leckey.

"I'm honored to be the final runner enlisted to participate in the TCS New York City Marathon this November 4 with the WNEP-TV Ryan's Run team," said Brogna, Vice President for Corporate Advancement and Communications at Allied Services. A veteran of eight marathons overall, Brogna is sponsored by Highmark and United Concordia Dental. "I'm humbly appreciative of their support as well as for choosing me as their representative runner," he commented.

Brogna's fundraiser has just begun with the first $5,000 being dedicated to Allied Services Hospice Center in memory of Harrington. He will also be raising funds in Harrington's memory for pediatric speech and language therapy to which he dedicated his entire professional life.

His other focus will be to honor Yudiski Flannelly, a longtime registered nurse at Heinz Rehab Hospital who passed away suddenly this past summer. "She was a ray of light whether having an impact in orthopedics or with our brain injury rehab team," Brogna hic

For Leckey, this year's New York City Marathon will be his seventh and fourteenth overall. In addition to training for the race, Leckey puts in countless hours promoting and raising money for Allied Services through Ryan's Race. The WNEP-TV personality says the effort is well worth it.

"I love using this media platform for the greater good,"

Leckey commented. "There's so much 'bad stuff' or negative news going on in the world ranging from television to social media. I love using this medium to improve the lives of people across our area."

Leckey praised the support Ryan's Run has received from residents and businesses throughout the region. "The folks in northeastern and central Pennsylvania are the most giving, most supportive and most willing to chip in to help each other when the going gets tough," he offered. "WNEP's Ryan's Run is just one avenue to help our neighbors."

He pointed out that donations to Ryan's Run go directly to support the care Allied Services provides to its patients. "The best part of this campaign is being able to 'follow the money' and show people exactly where their donations are going at Allied to help patients make huge strides in therapy," he explained.

"One of the coolest parts of this campaign is being out on the street, covering a different story and someone walks up to me and explains how a device our campaign purchased over the years improved the life of their family member or friend. That's the most motivating part of it all and we couldn't do that without the amazing support of the people who live in this area," he added.

Through the efforts of Leckey, WNEP-TV, runners, and supporters, Allied Services has earned Silver Level fund-raising status with the marathon. That level puts Allied Services in the same category with such organizations as UNICEF USA, St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, The Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation, and Boston Children's Hospital.

Ryan Leckey

"It took years of fundraising to get there," said Brogna. As a result of earning silver status, Allied Services' Ryan's Run team will have 50 runners in his year's marathon. "Those are 50 people who are passionate, not only about running, but about spreading the word and raising funds," Brogna explained. Among those are Rita Cavazos of Mountain Top and Chris Steiner of Drums.

In addition to Highmark/ United Concordia Dental, corporate sponsors include Mohegan Sun Casino, Jack Williams Tire and Auto Service Centers, Open Access, Motor World, Weis Markets, Northeastern Rehabilitation Services, Lamar Advertising, Baker Tilly Accountants and Advisors, and Allied Services.

The theme for this year's Ryan's Run is Inspiring Fitness, Challenging Disability and Changing Lives. Brogna pointed out that we don't have to look far to find someone whose life was changed by Allied Services. That person is Mountain Top resident Kristin Hoovler.

Hoovler, known to many as "KRock," was injured in a motorcycle accident on September 29, 2013. She was a passenger on a motorcycle operated by a friend when the motorcycle's rear tire sustained a blowout. She suffered traumatic brain injury and was in a medical-induced coma for three weeks.

"After the traumatic brain injury that I sustained in a motorcycle accident, Allied Services helped to bring me back to who I am" Hoovler said of the care she received from Allied Services. As she approaches the fifth anniversary of her accident, she noted that her mantra is "Pay if Forward."

"They taught me how to walk again so I would love to help Mr. Brogna get the word out to support him in the NYC Marathon that's he's running for memorial and charitable reasons. It's the least I could do. He's gone to hell and back for me." she added.

This year, Hoovler was a member of the committee that organized Mountain Top on the Move's annual July 4 parade which turned out to be the largest in its history. The 38-year-old felt she could bring some "fresh blood" to the annual event. An advocate for helmets for bicyclists and motorcyclists, she decided to find an organization to donate helmets to children who participated in the parade on bicycles decorated in a patriotic fashion.

She contacted Allied Services hoping the organization might have some helmets left over from a previous event. "Unfortunately, they were no longer available," she related. "But Mr. Brogna made it happen," she reported. "Allied found funds to purchase and donate helmets to the kids of Mountain Top that were given away during the parade."

"It's not just the care that Allied provided me with that influences me to want to help when I can," Hoovler explained. "It's the fact that Mr. Brogna also finds the way to help if ever asked. It's an honor to know Mr. Brogna and to know that nothing could stop him from helping those who need it ... not even a marathon," she offered.

To make a pledge to support WNEP's Ryan's Run 2018, send a check payable to Allied Services Foundation, c/o Jim Brogna Ryan's Run, 100 Abington Executive Park, Clarks Summit, PA 18411. You can pledge on line at www. allied-services.org/ryansrun. Pledge cards also are available from Hoovler. She can be contacted at kristinhoovler@ gmail.com.

construction of a pickleball court at the municipal park.

Pickleball is a cross between tennis, platform tennis, table tennis and badminton – well, sort of.

In appearance, the pickleball court is similar to a doubles badminton court. Two or four players use solid paddles to hit a ball, much like a wiffle ball, over a net that is about height of that on a tennis court.

Fairview Township received $60,562 to renovate the basketball court at Memorial Park. The grant will pay to excavate and remove the old basketball court. The area will then be graded, leveled and new asphalt will be poured for the two new basketball posts with backboards. The project will also include line painting, fence installation and fixing benches and picnic tables.

Relying on state grants, Fairview Township has steadily improved Memorial Park over the last few years. Last year, aging playground equipment was replaced with modern, safer equipment.

Seventh grade students pose in their pirate garb. Front row: Lainey Conway, Jenn Medvetz and Alexandra Hargreaves.

Pirates descend on St. Jude School

What do eye patches, buried treasure and peg legs have to do with English class? Everything if it's "Talk Like A Pirate Day"! The seventh grade students at Saint Jude School recently celebrated this little known holiday in style. Students examined the history of pirates and discussed how at different times in world history word choice and meaning were very different from today. Students studied terms such as "landlubber" and "shiver me timbers", all while answering class questions in their best pirate voices. So while a ship was nowhere in sight the seventh grade certainly spent a fun day on the high seas!

Many thanks for support of Eric VanFossen

Dear Editor,

In regards to the spaghetti dinner and basket raffle held for Eric VanFossen on Sunday, September 16, we would like to say thank you to all the businesses and organizations who offered their support.

Resident urging votes for Chrin

To the Editor:

During this past July 4th at the Wright Township parade ceremony, I attempted to meet candidate Matt Cartwright. I shook his hand, told him who I was, and where I was from. He said that's great and then proceeded to his vehicle. I was immediately disappointed by the interaction. Luckily, I was able to spend time at the same event with his opponent, John Chrin.

I spent half the time at the event talking to John and his campaign team. They were very nice, and I was impressed that they spent their time discussing the issues with me. I think he will be the candidate who will work better for us in Congress. At other events like this one, I have seen John go out of his way to introduce himself and speak with voters on issues they care about.

Come November, I will be voting for John Chrin and recommend other voters who live in Pennsylvania's 8th Congressional District to vote for him

Tibetan Monks visit Mountain Yoga

Mountain Yoga hosted the Sacred Arts of Tibet Tour along with seven Tibetan Monks from the Gaden Shartse Monastery in Southern India on Wednesday, September 26.

The monks are Tibetan refugees who had to flee to southern India when China took over Tibet.

The group spent the day at Mountain Yoga as part of the tour that is moving throughout the country. The tour is a charitable endeavor with all donations going to the monks to support their monastery and global work of cultural outreach, unity and peace.

Throughout the day the monks did private healing sessions with individuals in the community. A butter sculpting workshop was held at 5:30 p.m. for children and finally at 7 p.m. a public lecture on "The 6 Perfections" was held. Terry Tokach, owner of Mountain Yoga said, "The event is a great cultural into grade appropriate groups where they discuss the lesson with a passionate leader and apply it to their lives with crafts and activities.

The unique event was supported by Abe's Hot Dogs, Adelina's Restaurant, Milkhouse Creamery and Weis Markets, with each offering donations of goods in support of the events of the day.

He is known as the founder of the Franciscan Order, for his prayer for peace, for his ardor for preaching the gospel including to the birds, and for his love of nature and creation. It's for this reason that the church has come to celebrate creation and blessing of the animals near his commemoration day, October 4.

Bring your pets and other animals, appropriately restrained for the sake of the gathered animals and people, for a short service to celebrate creation and bless those creatures you hold dear. They will gather, rain or shine.

The next WELCA meeting

Items include: tissues, lotions for men and women, women's deodorant, women's white crew socks. (Please no body wash or men's socks). If you prefer you can give monetary donations to Florence Drum and she will buy the items needed. They will be collecting through to November.

A new program being introduced at St. Paul's entitled Sunday Conversations will be held throughout the year to allow informative, honest conversation on a variety of topics.

The series begins with Questions Concerning Death and Dying: What You Need to Know. These sessions will be held for two consecutive Sunday afternoons, October 14 and the 21 from 3 to 4:30 p.m. Pastor Kaufman will be joined by Pat Lehman, a well respected funeral director from the area who will help you understand the process and choices you can make. Let's be honest, funeral planning is a difficult process involving emotional stress, financial decision making and uncertainty. Without some guidance, the options and information surrounding funerals and arrangement planning can seem overwhelming at an already complicated time. Let them help you make informative decisions for yourself and
